CITY OF ROSEVILLE

Ranked as one of California's best places to live by Livability.com, Roseville is a vibrant, forward-thinking city offering an exceptional quality of life. With a 2025 estimated population of 166,214 and a median age of 38.2, Roseville blends youthful energy with experience to create a dynamic and balanced community. Its diverse economy spans technology, healthcare, finance, retail, and a growing start-up scene—fostering innovation, job growth, and long-term stability. Residents enjoy top-rated schools, a variety of housing options, and access to premier shopping, dining, and recreation in a clean, safe environment.

A key advantage of Roseville is its municipally owned utilities—including water, sewer, and electricity. Roseville Electric, the city's public power provider, offers competitive rates and exceptional reliability, making it a major draw for businesses and residents alike. Combined with excellent public services and a strong sense of community.
