LOCATION OVERVIEW

Research Pavilion is located in the middle of renowned Central Florida Research Park which is a campus-like environment for businesses, located adjacent to the University of Central Florida.

Research Pavilion is located in East Orlando's renowned Central Florida Research Park submarket. It is within minutes of the University of Central Florida and 20 minutes from the Central Business District and Orlando International Airport. It is a high growth area that has attracted national and international corporations, a mixture of Fortune 500 companies, government agencies and a thriving University business incubator.

The property benefits greatly from its proximity to the University of Central Florida, the second largest university in the United States based on enrollment, which provides a well-educated employment base to the area. Research Park tenants form relationships with the University of Central Florida through technology transfer, research, faculty consultations, graduate and undergraduate internships and part-time employment programs. Research Park tenants can also contract with the university for use of computer resources and laboratory facilities. Employees in the Research Park can pay the appropriate fee and obtain UCF parking decals and UCF ID cards, which allow for the use of recreational facilities and the UCF library.
